

Snow White Must Die

Neuhaus, Nele

Skin as white as snow, hair as black as ebony and lips as red as blood... But this is no fairy story as...

In a small town in Germany a boy is accused of murdering a beautiful girl. But does a 'wicked queen' lurk in their midst?

On a September evening eleven years ago, two 17-year-old girls vanished without a trace from the tiny village of Altenhain, just outside Frankfurt. In a trial based on circumstantial evidence 20-year-old Tobias Sartorius was convicted and imprisoned for the murder of his childhood friend Laura and his beautiful girlfriend Stefanie - otherwise known as Snow White.

After serving his sentence, Tobias returns home. His presence in the little German village stirs up the events of the past. Events that the locals would prefer to remain hidden. When the Sartorius family is subjected to a number of attacks, Detective Inspector Pia Kirchhoff and DS Oliver von Bodenstein are tasked with monitoring the tense atmosphere in the tight-knit community. As the village inhabitants close ranks it becomes apparent the disappearance of Snow White and her friend was far more complex than imagined.

Then history starts to repeat itself in a disastrous manner when another pretty girl goes missing. The police are thrown into a race against time. Will they be able to save her, or is she destined to die?

The Author

Nele Neuhaus is one of the most widely read German mystery writers. More than two million copies of her books are currently in print. She lives near Frankfurt, Germany.

How to Be a Good Wife

Chapman, Emma

I know what my husband would say: that I have too much time on my hands; that I need to keep myself busy. That I need to take my medication. Empty nest syndrome, he tells his friends at the pub, his mother. He's always said I have a vivid imagination.

Marta and Hector have been married for a long time - so long that she finds it difficult to remember her life before him. He has always taken care of her, and she has always done everything she can to be a good wife.

But when Hector comes home with a secret, their ordered domestic life begins to unravel. In the shadows there is a blonde girl that only Marta can see. And she is trying to tell her something...

Firefly Lane

Hannah, Kristin

Do you remember Abba and Fleetwood Mac? And do you remember the best friend who said she'd always be there for you? A coming of age novel about a generation of women who were both blessed and cursed by their choices.

It is 1974 and the summer of love is finally drawing to a close. The flower children are starting to realise that you cannot survive on peace and love alone. Kate Mularkey has accepted her place at the bottom of the secondary school social food chain. Then, to her amazement, the 'coolest girl in the world', Tully Hart - the girl all the boys want to know - moves in across the street and wants to be her best friend. Tully and Kate became inseparable and by summer's end they made a pact to be 'best friends forever'.

For thirty years Tully and Kate buoy each other through life, weathering the storms of friendship, jealousy, anger, hurt and resentment. Tully will follow her ambition to find fame and success. Kate knows that all she wants is to fall in love and have a family. What she doesn't know is how being a wife and a mother will change her.

They think they've survived it all until a single act of betrayal tears them apart. But when tragedy strikes, can the bonds of friendship survive? Or is it the one hurdle than even a lifelong friendship cannot overcome.

The Author

Kristin Hannah is the "New York Times" bestselling author of eighteen novels. She is a former lawyer turned writer and is the mother of one son. She and her husband live in the Pacific Northwest near Seattle, and Hawaii.

Killing 2, The

Hewson, David

It is two years since the notorious Nanna Birk Larsen case. Two years since Detective Sarah Lund left Copenhagen in disgrace for a remote outpost in northern Denmark.

When the body of a female lawyer is found in macabre circumstances in a military graveyard, there are elements of the crime scene that take Head of Homicide, Lennart Brix, back to an occupied wartime Denmark - a time its countrymen would wish to forget.

Brix knows that Lund is the one person he can rely on to discover the truth. Reluctantly she returns to Copenhagen and becomes intrigued with the facts surrounding the case. As more bodies are found, Lund comes to see a pattern and she realises that the identity of the killer will be known once the truth behind a more recent wartime mission is finally revealed...

The Author

David Hewson is the author of nine novels in the highly acclaimed Detective Nic Costa series set mostly in Rome which are currently being adapted for TV. He has also written thrillers set in Seville, the US and Venice, and he is the author to bring the highly acclaimed Danish TV crime drama "The Killing" to the literary market place. Formerly a journalist working for the "Sunday Times", "The Times" and the "Independent", he lives in Kent.

No! I Don't Need Reading Glasses!

Ironside, Virginia

Marie may be 'getting on a bit' but it's certainly not getting her down. She's working part time so there are more hours each day to enjoy life. She has her friends. She has Pouncer, the cat, as well as a darling grandson. And she has Archie to share her bed. All this, plus the Daily Rant's screaming headlines to wake her up in the morning. Life's good. But nothing stays the same for long.

A roller-coaster of a year beckons - a year that contains love and death, laughter and tears and the bizarre decision to take up temporary residence in a tree.

Always funny, often touching, 'No! I Don't Need Reading Glasses!' shows that getting on a bit does not mean giving up or even growing up.

The Author

Virginia Ironside is a journalist, agony aunt and author, and the creator of her one-woman show 'Growing Old Disgracefully'. She lives in London and has one son and two grandsons.

Woes of the True Policeman

Bolano, Roberto

Taking us back to the world and characters of his acclaimed masterpiece, '2666', 'Woes of the True Policeman' is Roberto Bolaño's last, unfinished, novel.

When Óscar Amalfitano begins an impulsive affair with one of his students at the University of Barcelona he has no idea where it will lead. More than his turbulent revolutionary past, or the death of his beautiful wife, the scandalous exposure of this relationship will change him for ever.

Forced to flee with his seventeen-year-old daughter, Amalfitano finds himself in Santa Teresa, a sprawling town on the USA-Mexico border. Haunted by dark tales of murdered women, this mythical place is populated by mysterious characters. We meet Castillo, who makes his living selling his forgeries of Larry Rivers paintings to wealthy Texans; Pancho Monje, a son born of six generations of foundlings and Arcimboldi, a magician and writer whose work has been important to Amalfitano for some time, but whose return to prominence is just beginning.

'Woes of the True Policeman' is an exciting, kaleidoscopic novel, lyrical and intense yet darkly humorous. Exploring the limits of memory and the power of art, it returns to the world and characters of Bolaño's masterpiece, '2666' and marks the culmination of one of the great careers of world literature.

The Author

Roberto Bolaño was born in Santiago, Chile, in 1953. He grew up in Chile and Mexico City. He is the author of 'The Savage Detectives', which received the Herralde Prize and the Rómulo Gallegos Prize, and '2666', which won the National Book Critics Circle Award. He died in Blanes, Spain, at the age of fifty.

Nano

Cook, Robin

After a tumultuous year in which her mentor is murdered and her estranged father comes back into her life, Pia Grazdani, the embattled medical student from Death Benefit, decides to take a year off from her medical studies and escape New York City. Intrigued by the promise of the burgeoning field of medical technology and the chance to clear her head, Pia takes a job at Nanobots, a lavishly funded, security-conscious nanotechnology institute in the picturesque foothills of the Rockies. Nanobots is ahead of the curve in the competitive world of molecular manufacturing, including the construction of microbivores, tiny nano-robots with the ability to gobble up viruses and bacteria.

But the corporate campus is a place of secrets. She's warned by her boss not to investigate the other work being done at the gigantic facility, nor to ask questions about the source of the seemingly endless capital that funds the institute's research. And when Pia encounters a fellow employee on a corporate jogging path, suffering the effects of a seizure, she soon realizes she may have literally stumbled upon Nanobot's human guinea pigs. Is the tech giant on the cusp of one of the biggest medical discoveries of the twenty-first century - a treatment option for millions - or have they already sold out to the highest bidder?

The Author

Doctor and author Robin Cook is widely credited with introducing the word 'medical' to the thriller genre, and over twenty years after the publication of his breakthrough novel, 'Coma', he continues to dominate the category he created. Cook has successfully combined medical fact with fiction to produce over twenty-seven international bestsellers, including 'Outbreak' (1987), 'Terminal' (1993), 'Contagion' (1996) and most recently 'Death Benefit' (2012).

Poet's Cottage

Pennicott, Josephine

"Poets had always lived there, the locals claimed. It was as if the house called to its own..."

When Sadie inherits Poet's Cottage in the Tasmanian fishing town of Pencubitt, she sets out to discover all she can about her notorious grandmother, Pearl Tatlow. Pearl was a children's writer who scandalised 1930s Tasmania with her behaviour. She was also violently murdered in the cellar of Poet's Cottage and her murderer never found.

Sadie grew up with a loving version of Pearl through her mother, but her aunt Thomasina tells a different story, one of a self-obsessed, abusive and licentious woman. And Pearl's biographer, Birdie Pinkerton, has more than enough reason to discredit her.

As Sadie and her daughter Betty work to uncover the truth, strange events begin to occur in the cottage. And as the terrible secret in the cellar threads its way into the present day, it reveals a truth more shocking than the decades-long rumours.

'Poet's Cottage' is a beautiful and haunting mystery of families, bohemia, truth, creativity, lies, memory and murder.

The Author

Josephine Pennicott is an award-winning writer. In 2001 she won the Scarlet Stiletto for a short story, and she has won the Kerry Greenwood Domestic Malice Prize twice in 2003 and 2004. Josephine has written three previous novels, 'Circle of Nine' (2001), which named as one of the year's best debut novels, 'Bride of the Stone' (2003) and 'A Fire in the Shell' (2004), which was shortlisted for Best Horror Novel in the 2005 Aurealis Awards. Josephine was born in Tasmania and lives in Sydney with her partner David and their daughter Daisy.

Let the Dead Lie

Nunn, Malla

DURBAN, SOUTH AFRICA, 1953 Forced to resign from his position of Detective Sergeant and re-classified as 'mixed race' after an incident involving a young black woman, Emmanuel Cooper winds up powerless and alone in the tough coastal city of Durban mixing labouring with surveillance work for his old boss, Major van Niekerk. Patrolling the freight yards one night, he stumbles upon the body of a young white boy and the detective in him cannot, or will not, walk away. When two more bodies - this time an older English woman and her maid - are discovered at his boarding house, he unwittingly becomes the prime suspect in a triple murder case.

At Major van Niekerk's behest, Cooper is given 48 hours to clear his name and - unofficially - solve the three murders. And so, temporarily back to being a European Detective Sergeant, he descends into Durban's seedy underworld, a viper's nest of prostitution, drugs and violence run by Indian gangsters. To solve the crimes and save his own skin, he must place his trust in a mysterious figure who drives a white DeSoto convertible, a Zion Gospel preacher, and the exquisite yet streetwise Lana, who also happens to be Major van Niekerk's mistress...

Suspenseful, compelling and rich with the complexities of life in Apartheid-era South Africa, 'Let The Dead Lie' cements Malla Nunn's place as one of Australia's most engaging crime writers.

*November release

Collected Short Stories, The Archer, Jeffrey

A collected edition of the master storyteller's short stories

This brand new edition brings together three of Jeffrey Archer's classic collections of short stories.

Every reader will have their own favourites: the choices run from an imprisoned man who is certain that his supposed murder victim is very much alive, to a female driver pursued relentlessly by a menacing figure in another vehicle. An offhand remark is taken seriously by a Chinese sculptor in one tale, while a British diplomat unexpectedly becomes the owner of a priceless work of art in another... And over three of the stories, discover a hauntingly written, atmospheric account of two undergraduates at Oxford in the thirties: a tale of bitter rivalry that ends in a memorable love story.

These stories are packed full of the master storyteller's unexpected twists, richly drawn characters and ingenious, witty denouements - some will make you laugh, others will bring you to tears. And, as always, every one of them will keep you spellbound.

The Author

Jeffrey Archer, whose novels and short stories include 'Kane and Abel', 'A Prisoner of Birth' and 'Cat O' Nine Tales', has topped the bestseller lists around the world, with sales of over 270 million copies. He is the only author ever to have been a number one bestseller in fiction (sixteen times), short stories (four times) and non-fiction ('The Prison Diaries'). The author is married with two sons and lives in London and Cambridge.

Lionheart

Penman, Sharon

The epic story of heroic yet controversial Richard Lionheart from the bestselling author

Richard I was crowned King in 1189 and set off almost immediately for the Third Crusade. This was a bloody campaign to regain the Holy Land, marked by internecine warfare among the Christians and extraordinary campaigns against the Saracens. Men and women found themselves facing new sorts of challenges and facing an uncertain future. John, the youngest son, was left behind - and with Richard gone, he was free to conspire with the French king to steal his brother's throne.

Overshadowing the battlefields that stretched to Jerusalem and beyond were the personalities of two great adversaries: Richard and Saladin. They quickly took the measure of each other in both war and diplomacy. The result was mutual admiration: a profound acknowledgement of a worthy opponent. In this gripping narrative of passion, intrigue, battle and deceit, Penman reveals a true and complex Richard - a man remarkable for his power and intelligence, his keen grasp of warfare and his concern for the safety of his men, who followed him against all odds.

The Author

Sharon Kay Penman is the author of seven previous historical novels and four medieval mysteries set during the reign of Eleanor of Aquitaine. She lives in Mays Landing, New Jersey, and her next book will be 'A King's Ransom', completing the story of Richard I.

Marked

Jackson, David

The third blistering Callum Doyle thriller

Detective Callum Doyle is used to solving cases on his intuition. He knows this city and its reprobate scum, as well as the back of his hand. So when a young girl is brutally raped and murdered in the East Village, not long after getting a tattoo, Doyle is convinced he knows the killer. And he is determined to bring them to justice, at whatever the cost.

But as fresh incidents raise doubts about Doyle's conviction, Doyle begins to slide a slippery slope between what he knows to be right, and the evidence mounted against him. Is he going completely off the rails or is a sick and twisted person playing a very dangerous game?

The Author

After taking his Bachelor's degree and then a PhD, David Jackson became a full-time academic. He is married, with two daughters and a menagerie of animals. 'Pariah', his first novel, was Highly Commended in the Crime Writers' Association Debut Dagger Awards.

London Falling

Cornell, Paul

The dark is rising... Detective Inspector James Quill is about to complete the drugs bust of his career. Then his prize suspect Rob Toshack is murdered in custody. Furious, Quill pursues the investigation, co-opting intelligence analyst Lisa Ross and undercover cops Costain and Sefton. But nothing about Toshack's murder is normal.

Toshack had struck a bargain with a vindictive entity, whose occult powers kept Toshack one step ahead of the law - until his luck ran out. Now, the team must find a 'suspect' who can bend space and time and alter memory itself. And they will kill again.

As the group starts to see London's sinister magic for themselves, they have two choices: panic or use their new abilities. Then they must hunt a terrifying supernatural force the only way they know how: using police methods, equipment and tactics. But they must all learn the rules of this new game - and quickly. More than their lives will depend on it.

Sea Witch, The Coonts, Stephen

Airplanes, adventures, life and death in the skies: The Sea Witch brings together three dramatic tales - from three periods of history - of men and women at war:

The Sea Witch: A rookie WW2 seaplane pilot is thrown in at the deep end on a mission to locate a missing colleague during the Battle of Guadalcanal.

The 17th Day: Seventeen days is the average life expectancy of a British aviator during WW1. Today is Paul Hyde's seventeenth day. Will he live to see the next?

Al-Jihad: 2001 - an ex-US Marine becomes caught up in a rogue plot to avenge the terrorists who killed his former commander.

This collection, born of Coonts' lifelong passion for military aviation, shows his trademark storytelling at its most scintillating, passionate and powerful.

Naughty

Velvet

Forget 'Fifty Shades of Grey', here's something much naughtier...

The women in the Naughty Book Club - Naomi, Kennedy, Mira and Tyler - will go to any length to satisfy their desires. Naomi, a suburban housewife, is stuck in a loveless, sexless marriage. Mira, the seemingly conservative CEO, has a wild side that could ruin not only her professional reputation but also her relationship with her partner Sam. Kennedy, a flight attendant, is tired of looking for love in the wrong places, but the mystery man seated in first class might be just what she needs. And when Tyler comes home early from her latest design assignment, she discovers her girlfriend in bed with a man, and it's all she can do to keep it together. Here, they each begin their journey at The Black Door club, a place of passionate desires and forbidden pleasures. But each soon comes to learn the repercussions these new-found experiences might have...

Robert B. Parker's Lullaby

Atkins, Ace

Fourteen-year-old Mattie Sullivan has approached Spenser for help, asking him to find her mother's killer.

But her mother, Julie Sullivan, was killed some four years back; and a local man, Mickey Green, was convicted of her murder that very same year.

Mattie is, by all appearances, an emotionally damaged kid. But she's also gruff, street-smart and fearless - qualities close to Spenser's heart.

As such, he agrees to look into Mickey Green's case: figuring the least he can do is force Mattie to face the facts, and put an end to her denial.

But Mattie's instincts are correct. And soon Spenser realizes that it's not her, but the record on her mother's killing, which needs to be set straight.

The Author

Ace Atkins is the author of eleven novels, including 'The Ranger', which was nominated for the 2012 Edgar Award for Best Novel.

Robert B. Parker was the author of seventy books, including the legendary Spenser detective series, the Jesse Stone novels, the acclaimed Virgil Cole / Everett Hitch westerns, and the Sunny Randall novels. Winner of the Mystery Writers of America Grand Master Award and long considered the undisputed dean of American crime fiction, he died in January 2010.

Perfect Present, The Swan, Karen

Memories are a gift...

Haunted by a past she can't escape, Laura Cunningham desires nothing more than to keep her world small and precise - her quiet relationship and growing jewellery business are all she needs to get by. Until the December day when Rob Blake walks into her studio and commissions a necklace that will tell his enigmatic wife Cat's life in charms.

As Laura interviews Cat's family, friends and former lovers, she steps out of her world and into theirs - a charmed world where weekends are spent in Verbier and the air is lavender-scented, where friends are wild, extravagant and jealous, and a big love has to compete with grand passions.

Hearts are opened, secrets revealed and as the necklace begins to fill up, Cat's intoxicating life envelops Laura's own. By the time she has to identify the final charm, Laura's metamorphosis is almost complete. But the last story left to tell has the power to change all of their lives forever, and Laura is forced to choose between who she really is and who it is she wants to be.

The Author

Karen Swan began her career in fashion journalism before giving it all up to raise her three children and an ADHD puppy, and to pursue her ambition of becoming a writer. She lives in the forest in Sussex, writing her books in a treehouse overlooking the Downs. Her first novel, 'Players', was published in 2010, followed by 'Prima Donna'. In 2011 Karen's third novel, 'Christmas at Tiffany's', was a Sunday Times Top Ten Bestseller.

Crimson Warning, A

Alexander, Tasha

Secrets prove deadly in this new novel from Tasha Alexander featuring Lady Emily Hargreaves. Some very prominent people in London are waking up to find their doorsteps smeared with red paint, the precursor to the revelation of a dark secret - and worse - by someone who enjoys destroying lives

Newly returned to her home in Mayfair, Lady Emily Hargreaves is looking forward to enjoying the delights of the season. The delights, that is, as defined by her own eccentricities-reading The Aeneid, waltzing with her dashing husband, and joining the Women's Liberal Federation in the early stages of its campaign to win the vote for women. But an audacious vandal disturbs the peace in the capital city, splashing red paint on the neat edifices of the homes of London's elite. This mark, impossible to hide, presages the revelation of scandalous secrets, driving the hapless victims into disgrace, despair and even death. Soon, all of London high society is living in fear of learning who will be the next target, and Lady Emily and her husband, Colin, favorite agent of the crown, must uncover the identity and reveal the motives of the twisted mind behind it all before another innocent life is lost.

The Author

Tasha Alexander attended the University of Notre Dame, where she signed on as an English major in order to have a legitimate excuse for spending all her time reading. She and her husband, novelist Andrew Grant, divide their time between Chicago and the UK. Please visit her website at www.tashaalexander.com.

In the Gold of Time

Gallay, Claudie

A world-weary young father holidays by the sea near Dieppe with his reproachfully perfect wife and their twin daughters.

A chance meeting with an eccentric old lady leads to intense encounters in her mysterious home, full of old photographs and strange objects - sacred ceremonial masks once belonging to the Hopi Indians of Arizona.

The old woman takes comfort in her new companion, and he, in turn, is drawn by her secrets. As he begins to push his family into the background, her stirring tales of the Hopi become the only salve to his despondent soul.

The Author

Claudie Gallay is a teacher who lives in Provence. 'The Breakers' was her breakthrough novel, a runaway bestseller in France.

Alison Anderson's translations include Muriel Barbery's bestselling novel 'The Elegance of the Hedgehog' and 'The Breakers' by Claudie Gallay.

Running the Maze

Coughlin, Jack and Davis, Donald A.

Marine Gunnery Sergeant Kyle Swanson is sent into Pakistan, where an international team of medical workers has been executed in order to cover up a deadly terrorist secret. In the aftermath of great floods, a doctor on a relief mission in northeastern Pakistan discovers the remains of a collapsed bridge that reminds him of a bridge near his childhood home in Ohio. He snaps a mobile phone picture and sends it to his sister, just before his entire team is slaughtered. His sister is Beth Ledford, a Coast Guard sniper, who suspects that the answer to the mystery of her brother's death is in that cellphone picture. No one believes her until she finds Swanson and the secret special operations team known as Task Force Trident. When Kyle takes Beth into Pakistan to investigate, they find the true secret behind the mass murder - what may be the last, best hope of victory by al-Qaeda and the Taliban over allied forces. Now the two snipers have their sights set on one man, an American diplomat who has become the biggest obstacle to victory in the war on terror. The only question is: which of them gets to pull the trigger?

The Author

Gunnery Sergeant Jack Coughlin was with the Third Battalion, Fourth Marines during the drive to Baghdad and has operated on a wide range of assignments in hotspots around the world. Donald A. Davis is the author of seventeen books, including four "New York Times" bestsellers.

Splendid Little War, A

Robinson, Derek

The war to end all wars, people said in 1918. Not for long. By 1919, White Russians were fighting Bolshevik Reds for control of their country, and Winston Churchill (then Secretary of State for War) wanted to see Communism "strangled in its cradle". So a volunteer R.A.F. squadron, flying Sopwith Camels, went there to duff up the Reds. "There's a splendid little war going on," a British staff officer told them. "You'll like it." Looked like fun.

But the war was neither splendid nor little. It was big and it was brutal, a grim conflict of attrition, marked by incompetence and corruption. Before it ended, the squadron wished that both sides would lose. If that was a joke, nobody was laughing.

The Author

Derek Robinson was enlisted in as flighter plotter in the R.A.F. during his national service. He read History at Cambridge before working in advertising in London and New York. His novel 'Goshawk Squadron' was shortlisted for the Booker Prize in 1971. He lives in Bristol.

Settled Blood

Hannah, Mari

When a young girl is found dead at the base of Hadrian's Wall, it's not long before Detective Chief Inspector Kate Daniels realises her death was no ordinary homicide. She was thrown from a great height and was probably alive before she hit the ground. Then a local businessmen reports his daughter missing, has Daniels found the identity of her victim, or is a killer playing a sickening game? As the murder investigation team delve deeper into the case, half truths are told, secrets exposed, and while Daniels makes her way through a mountain of obstacles time is running out for one terrified girl.

The Author

Mari Hannah was born in London and moved north as a child. Sponsored by the Home Office, she graduated from Teesside University before becoming a Probation Officer, a career cut short when she was injured while on duty. Thereafter, she spent several years working as a film/television scriptwriter. During that time she created and developed a number of projects, most notably a feature length film and the pilot episode of a crime series for television based on the characters in her book, the latter as part of a BBC drama development scheme. She lives in Northumberland with her partner, an ex-murder detective. In 2010, she won the Northern Writers' Award. 'Settled Blood' is her second novel. www.marihannah.com

Home Front

Hannah, Kristin

From a distance, Michael and Joleen Zarkades seem to have it all: a solid dependable marriage, two exciting careers, and children they adore. But after twelve years together, the couple has lost their way. They are unhappy and edging towards divorce. Then the Iraq war starts and an unexpected deployment will tear their already fragile family apart, sending one of them deep into harm's way and leaving the other at home, waiting for news. When the worst happens, each must face their darkest fear and fight for the future of their family.

An intimate look at the inner landscape of a disintegrating marriage and a dramatic exploration of the price of war on a single American family. 'Home Front' is a provocative and timely portrait of hope, honour, loss, forgiveness and the elusive nature of love.

The Author

Kristin Hannah is the "New York Times" bestselling author of nineteen novels. A former lawyer turned writer, she is the mother of one son and lives with her husband in the Pacific Northwest and Hawaii.

Black Path, The Larsson, Åsa

The frozen body of a woman is found in a fishing ark on the ice near Torneträsk in northern Sweden. She has been brutally tortured, but the killing blow was clumsy, almost amateur.

The body is quickly identified, raising hopes of an open-and-shut solution. But when a six-month-old suicide is disinterred, Rebecka Martinsson and Anna-Maria Mella find themselves investigating shocking corruption at the heart of one of Sweden's most successful mining companies. One that has powerful enemies of its own.

The Author

Åsa Larsson was born and grew up in Kiruna, Sweden. She is a qualified lawyer. Her first novel, 'The Savage Altar', was awarded the Swedish Crime Writers' Association prize for best debut. Its sequel, 'The Blood Spilt', was chosen as Best Swedish Crime Novel of 2004.

Marlaine Delargy has translated the novels of Åsa Larsson and Johan Theorin, and is on the editorial board of the Swedish Book Review.

Killing, The

Hewson, David and Sveistrup, Soren

Sarah Lund is looking forward to her last day as a detective with the Copenhagen police department before moving to Sweden. But everything changes when nineteen-year-old student, Nanna Birk Larsen, is found raped and brutally murdered in the woods outside the city. Lund's plans to relocate are put on hold as she leads the investigation along with fellow detective Jan Meyer.

While Nanna's family struggles to cope with their loss, local politician, Troels Hartmann, is in the middle of an election campaign to become the new mayor of Copenhagen. When links between City Hall and the murder suddenly come to light, the case takes an entirely different turn.

Over the course of twenty days, suspect upon suspect emerges as violence and political intrigue cast their shadows over the hunt for the killer.

The Author

David Hewson, is well-known for his crime fiction set in European cities. He is the author of nine novels in the highly acclaimed Detective Nic Costa series, which are set mostly in Rome. His most recent novels include 'The Fallen Angel' and 'Carnival for the Dead' - set in Venice. He has spent time in Copenhagen researching and writing the novel of 'The Killing'.

Sea Watch, The Tchaikovsky, Adrian

The sixth novel in the thrilling "Shadows of the Apt" series

BOOK SIX: SHADOWS OF THE APT

A shadow is falling over Collegium. Despite the tenuous peace, Stenwold Maker knows that the Empire will return for his city. Even as he tries to prepare for the resurgence of the black and gold empire, a hidden threat is working against his people. Ships that sail from Collegium's harbour are being attacked, sunk by pirates. Some just go missing...

Lulled by the spread of lies and false promises, Stenwold's allies are falling away. He faces betrayal on every side, and the Empire is just waiting for the first sign of weakness to strike. But the Empire is not the only power that has its eyes on Collegium. And even the Wasp-kinde may not be powerful enough to stave off the forces massing in the darkness.

Carnival for the Dead

Hewson, David

"In Venice the past was more reticent. Beyond the tourist sights, San Marco and the Rialto, it lurked in the shadows, seeping out of the cracked stones like blood from ancient wounds, as if death itself was one more sly performance captured beneath the bright all-seeing light of the lagoon."

It's February, and Carnival time in Venice. Forensic pathologist Teresa Lupo visits the city to investigate the mysterious disappearance of her beloved bohemian Aunt Sofia. But from the moment she is greeted off the vaporetto by a masked man dressed in the costume of The Plague Doctor, Teresa starts to suspect that all is not well.

The puzzle deepens when a letter reveals a piece of fiction in which both Sofia and Teresa appear. Even more strange, are the links to the past which gradually begin to surface. Are the messages being sent by Sofia herself? Her abductor? Or a third party seeking to help her unravel the mystery? The revelation is as surprising and shocking as Sofia's fate. And Teresa herself comes to depend upon the unravelling of a mystery wrapped deep inside the art and culture of Venice itself.

The Author

David Hewson is the author of nine novels in the highly acclaimed Detective Nic Costa series set mostly in Rome which are currently being adapted for TV. He has also written thrillers set in Seville, the US and Venice, and he is the author to bring the highly acclaimed Danish TV crime drama "The Killing" to the literary market place. Formerly a journalist working for the "Sunday Times", "The Times" and the "Independent", he lives in Kent.

Nameless Dead, The McGilloway, Brian

Declan Cleary's body has never been found, but everyone believes he was killed for informing on a friend over thirty years ago. Now the Commission for Location of Victims' Remains is following a tip-off that he was buried on the small isle of Islandmore, in the middle of the River Foyle.

Instead, the dig uncovers a baby's skeleton, and it doesn't look like death by natural causes. But evidence revealed by the Commission's activities cannot lead to prosecution. Inspector Devlin is torn. He has no desire to resurrect the violent divisions of the recent past. Neither can he let a suspected murderer go unpunished.

Now the secret is out, more deaths follow. Devlin must follow his conscience - even when that puts those closest to him at terrible risk...

The Author

Brian McGilloway was born in Derry, Northern Ireland in 1974, and teaches English at St Columb's College, Derry. He lives near the Borderlands with his wife, three sons and daughter. Shortlisted for the CWA New Blood Dagger Award, he was also shortlisted for the Best Crime Novel award at the 2009 Irish Book Awards. Nobody True

Herbert, James

"I wasn't there when I died..."

Jim True knows. He has returned from an out-of-body experience to find he has been brutally murdered and his body mutilated. No one can see him, no one can hear him, no one, except his killer, knows he still exists. Freed from his body, True embarks on a quest to find his killer and discover why and how he has managed to survive.

As he closes in on his murderer, True discovers that even the very people he loved and trusted have betrayed him. He meets his killer, a strange and sinister figure who can also leave his body at will.

An epic and deadly battle ensues between True and a seemingly unstoppable and hideous serial killer - a man now intent on even more murders, including True's wife and child...

I is for Innocent

Grafton, Sue

The ninth novel in the Kinsey Millhone mystery series, now with a stunning new look

I feel compelled to report that at the moment of death, my entire life did not pass before my eyes in a flash... What I experienced was a little voice piping up in an outraged tone: "Oh come on. You're not serious. This is really it?"

It was a Monday early in December when Kinsey Millhone first got involved in the Isabelle Barney murder case.

She was out of work. Attorney Lonnie Klingman's usual private investigator had just dropped dead of a heart attack. Kinsey was more than happy to oblige.

The trouble started on the very first day of the investigation. Either Kinsey's predecessor was incompetent - or someone had been getting away with murder. And next time it might turn out to be hers...

The Author

Sue Grafton has become one of the most popular female writers, both in the UK and in the US. Born in Kentucky in 1940, she began her career as a TV scriptwriter before Kinsey Millhone and the "alphabet" series took off. She plans to take Kinsey all the way through the alphabet to Z. Sue lives and writes in Montecito, California and Louisville, Kentucky.

J Is For Judgment

Grafton, Sue

The tenth novel in the Kinsey Millhone mystery series, now with a stunning new look

"On the face of it, you wouldn't think there was any connection between the murder of a dead man and the events that changed my perceptions about my life..."

For Kinsey Millhone, the investigation started with a surprise visit from an ex-colleague at California Fidelity - the company that had fired her nine months previously.

Fives hours later she was on a plane to Mexico, hot on the trail of a suicide who'd allegedly just come back to life. After a five year wait, Wendell Jaffe's widow had finally succeeded in having the real estate swindler declared dead, collecting half a million dollars for her pains. Now it looks like a 'pseudocide' - and Kinsey's ready to risk everything to get to the truth...

L Is for Lawless

Grafton, Sue

The twelfth novel in the Kinsey Millhone mystery series, now with a stunning new look

It was the week before Thanksgiving when Kinsey Millhone first heard the sad story of the late Johnny Lee, the World War II fighter pilot of whom, rather mysteriously, the military authorities have no record. His family are concerned - perhaps Kinsey could make a few calls, straighten things out?

Then Johnny's apartment is ransacked. In the debris a hidden safe is uncovered - and in that safe is a mysterious key marked LAWLESS.

That night Kinsey's on a plane to Dallas, at the start of a thrilling rollercoaster ride through Texas and Kentucky on the trail of long-buried treasure. Unfortunately there's a fire-raising psychopath on her tail...

M is for Malice

Grafton, Sue

The thirteenth novel in the Kinsey Millhone mystery series, now with a stunning new look

'M' is for Malek Construction, the $40 million company that grew out of modest soil to become one of the big three in California.

'M' is for Malek family: four sons now nearing middle age who stand to inherit a fortune - four men with very different temperaments and needs, linked only by blood and money. Eighteen years ago, one of them - angry, troubled and in trouble - went missing.

'M' is for Millhone, now hired to trace that missing black sheep brother.

And, in brutal consequence, 'M' is for murder...

N is for Noose

Grafton, Sue

The fourteenth novel in the Kinsey Millhone mystery series, now with a stunning new look

Early spring in the Sierra Nevada, bringing the usual driving sleet and snow. PI Kinsey Millhone is on her way west when she detours into Nota Lake (pop. 2356) to check out a new client. And encounters a chill she can scarcely believe.

Only six weeks have passed since sheriff's detective Tom Newquist died of a heart attack. His widow is sure he was keeping secrets from her just before he died - and she hires Kinsey to find out exactly what.

But all Kinsey can uncover is that Newquist led an exemplary life, so what could he possibly have to conceal? And why has the town, to the last threatening redneck, closed ranks on her?

Kinsey's on the point of giving up. Until she discovers a chilling new clue: a childish drawing of a thick length of rope - fashioned into a hangman's noose...

O is for Outlaw

Grafton, Sue

The fifteenth novel in the Kinsey Millhone mystery series, now with a stunning new look

"First there was a phone call from a stranger, then a letter showed up fourteen years after it was sent. That's how I learned I'd made a serious error in judgement and ended up risking my life..."

The call comes on a Monday morning from a guy who scavenges defaulted storage units at auction. Last weekend he bought a stack. They had stuff in them - Kinsey stuff. For thirty bucks, he'll sell her the lot. Kinsey's never been one for personal possessions, but curiosity wins out and she hands over a twenty (she may be curious but she loves a bargain). What she finds amid childhood memorabilia is an old undelivered letter.

It will force her to re-examine her beliefs about the break-up of her first marriage, about the honour of her first husband, about an old unsolved murder. And it will put her life in the gravest peril.

P is for Peril

Grafton, Sue

The sixteenth novel in the Kinsey Millhone mystery series, now with a stunning new look

It is now nine weeks since Dr Dowan Purcell vanished without trace. The sixty-nine-year-old doctor had said goodnight to his colleagues at the Pacific Meadows nursing home, had climbed into his car and driven away - never to be seen again.

His embittered first wife Fiona is convinced he is still alive. His second wife, Crystal - a former stripper forty years his junior - is just as sure he is dead. Enter private investigator Kinsey Malone, hired by Fiona to find out just what has happened to the man they loved.

Enter also Tommy Hevener, an attractive flame-haired twenty-something who has set his romantic sights on Kinsey. And Tommy is a man with a very interesting past...

The Author

Sue Grafton has become one of the most popular female writers, both in the UK and in the US. Born in Kentucky in 1940, she began her career as a TV scriptwriter before Kinsey Millhone and the "alphabet" series took off. She plans to take Kinsey all the way through the alphabet to Z. Sue lives and writes in Montecito, California and Louisville, Kentucky.

Gangster Squad (Film Tie-In)

Lieberman, Paul

"The shadowy Gangster Squad was formed in 1946 with eight men operating out of two rusted old Fords. They had no office and made no arrests - the idea was to remain invisible. By the time I met Sgt. Jack O'Mara, most of the early members were dead, so I set out to find the survivors."

Based on the hugely popular "Los Angeles Times" column 'LA Noir: Tales from the Gangster Squad', this is the dark-hearted true story of a group of men cleaning up the mean streets of post-War America. From hundreds of interviews with the original members of the team, Paul Lieberman stitches together the story of Jack O'Mara, his dangerous colleague Jerry Wooters ('the killer cop, that's what they called me') and their anything-goes war with arch-criminal Mickey Cohen and his budding rival Jack 'The Enforcer' Whalen.

A tale of stake-outs, shoot-outs and even the famous Black Dahlia murder case, this is ice-cool narrative non-fiction at its best - and the basis for a huge Warner Brothers film of the same name, starring Ryan Gosling, Sean Penn, Josh Brolin and Emma Stone.

The Author

Paul Lieberman is a former Nieman Fellow at Harvard who went on to work for twenty-four years as an editor and writer for the "LA Times". He spent a year covering the Los Angeles riots and its aftermath as part of the team that won a Pulitzer Prize. He now lives in Westchester County, New York.

Tales from Below Stairs

Powell, Margaret

Arriving at the great houses of 1920s London, fifteen-year-old Margaret's life in service was about to begin...

As a kitchen maid - the lowest of the low - she entered an entirely new world; one of stoves to be blacked, vegetables to be scrubbed, mistresses to be appeased, and even bootlaces to be ironed. Work started at 5.30am and went on until after dark. It was a far cry from her childhood on the beaches of Hove, where money and food were scarce, but warmth and laughter never were.

Yet from the gentleman with a penchant for stroking the housemaids' curlers, to raucous tea-dances with errand boys, to the heartbreaking story of Agnes the pregnant under-parlourmaid, fired for being seduced by her mistress' nephew, Margaret's tales of her time in service are told with wit, warmth, and a sharp eye for the prejudices of her situation. Brilliantly evoking the long-vanished world of masters and servants, 'Tales from Below Stairs' is the remarkable true story of an indomitable woman, who, though her position was lowly, never stopped aiming high.

This is bind-up of 'Below Stairs' and 'Climbing the Stairs'.

The Author

Margaret Powell was born in 1907 in Hove. Aged fifteen, she went into service as a kitchen maid, eventually progressing to the position of cook. In 1968 the first volume of her memoirs, 'Below Stairs', was published to instant success. She died in 1984.

Manhattan Diet, The

Daspin, Eileen

How do Manhattan women remain so stunningly svelte, despite the fact that New York has more top restaurants than any other city on the planet, not to mention a bagel bar or pizzeria on nearly every corner? They eat out often, indulge in all types of cuisine and even sneak in junk food, but manage to stay trim and toned nonetheless. So what's their secret?

Now you can learn to eat, lose weight and live your life the way chic New Yorkers do - and enjoy the same fabulous results. Manhattan insider Eileen Daspin reveals what real New York women - including celebrities like Sarah Jessica Parker, Anna Wintour and Tina Fey - really think about dieting and how they shop for food, cook, order in restaurants, eat, cheat, and splurge. Discover their eating secrets and waist-trimming tips, plus a detailed weightloss program and 28-day eating plan that will fit easily into your personal lifestyle. Along with wisdom from leading nutritionists, tips from celebrity trainers and recipes by New York's most celebrated chefs, 'The Manhattan Diet' gives you everything you need for a slim and stylish life - wherever you live.

The Author

Eileen Daspin is an award-winning US journalist and magazine editor who writes on a range of lifestyle subjects. Her writing has appeared in the "New York Times", "Martha Stewart Living", "InStyle", "Food & Wine" and other publications, and she has worked for "W" magazine, "People", the "Wall Street Journal", "Condé Nast Portfolio", the "New York Post" and Thomson Reuters. Eileen is married to New York celebrity chef Cesare Casella, with whom she has co-authored a cookbook. She lives and diets in Manhattan.

Point of View, A

James, Clive

The BBC Radio 4 series, "A Point of View", has been on the air since 2007. Over the years, it's had a variety of presenters - including the national treasure that is Clive James - talking for ten minutes about anything and everything that has captured their imagination, piqued their interest, raised their blood pressure or just downright incensed them that week.

Of all the presenters, Clive James was a clear favourite, and now, for the first time, his original pieces - sixty in total - and all new postscripts are collected together in one volume.

Read along with Clive as he reflects on everything from wheelie bins to plastic surgery, Elizabeth Hurley to the Olympics, 24 to Damien Hirst, Harry Potter to giving up smoking, car parks to Chinese elections, "Britain's Got Talent" to the expenses scandal - and plenty more besides.

Essentially a chronicle of life in twenty-first century Britain, Clive James' 'A Point of View' is informed and informative, thoughtful and thought-provoking - but above all, entertaining. In fact, in short, it's a damn good read.

The Author

Clive James is the author of more than thirty books. As well as essays, he has published collections of literary and television criticism, travel writing, verse and novels, plus five volumes of autobiography. As a television performer he appeared regularly for both the BBC and ITV, and has also been a regular presenter on BBC Radio - including "A Point of View". In 1992 he was made a Member of the Order of Australia and in 2003 he was awarded the Philip Hodgins memorial medal for literature.

Bestselling author of Confidence

ROB YEUNG

You Can Change Your Life

Yeung, Rob

Looking to make a positive change in your life? Maybe you've read a few self-help books and think you know what you need to do - maybe some positive thinking, making a resolution or simply wishing for happiness? Well, here's some news: none of this is going to help; you simply don't get things in life just by wishing for them.

In 'You Can Change Your Life' top psychologist Rob Yeung investigates ways of making change stick. He offers the most up-to-date thinking on the skills, beliefs and methods that will help you to change your life.

The Author

Psychologist Rob Yeung, PhD, is a researcher and educator in the areas of human communication, influence and persuasion, and high achievement. He is the author of over a dozen international bestsellers, including 'Confidence: the power to take control and live the life you want' and 'I is for Influence: The new science of persuasion'. As well as teaching at universities and business schools, he is an in-demand expert on television, providing expert comment on programmes ranging from CNN and BBC news to "Big Brother". He has written for the "Financial Times", the "Daily Telegraph" and the "Guardian" and has been quoted in "Men's Health" and "Psychologies".

'People are emotionally drawn to the supernatural. They actively want weird, spooky things to be true... Wiseman shows us a higher joy as he deftly skewers the paranormal charlatans, blows away the psychic fog and lets in the clear light of reason'

RICHARD DAWKINS

PARANORMALITY

Why we believe
the impossible

PROFESSOR RICHARD WISEMAN

BESTSELLING AUTHOR OF 59 SECONDS

Paranormality

Wiseman, Richard

Bestselling psychologist Richard Wiseman unravels the science behind our beliefs in telepathy, clairvoyants, mediums, ghosts, and more...

"People are emotionally drawn to the supernatural. They actively want weird, spooky things to be true... Wiseman shows us a higher joy as he deftly skewers the paranormal charlatans, blows away the psychic fog and lets in the clear light of reason." Richard Dawkins

Professor Richard Wiseman is clear about one thing: paranormal phenomena don't exist. But in the same way that the science of space travel transforms our everyday lives, so research into telepathy, fortune-telling and out-of-body experiences produces remarkable insights into our brains, behaviour and beliefs.

'Paranormality' embarks on a wild ghost chase into this new science of the supernatural and is packed with activities that allow you to experience the impossible. So throw away your crystals, ditch your lucky charms and cancel your subscription to "Reincarnation Weekly". It is time to discover the real secrets of the paranormal.

The Author

Richard Wiseman is Britain's only professor for the Public Understanding of Psychology and has an international reputation for his research into unusual areas, including deception, luck, humour and the paranormal. He is the author of the international bestseller '59 Seconds', is frequently quoted by the media and his research has been featured on over 150 television programmes across the world.

Art of Science, The Hamblyn, Richard

Science is about discovery, a journey towards knowledge.

With authors as diverse as Galileo and Lewis Carroll, the extracts featured in this anthology span centuries and continents; they include startling revelations that changed the way we think and tackle more prosaic questions such as why the sea is salty; they consider the natural beauty of the snowflake and the man-made wonder of the first computer. What links them all is a desire to understand, explain and enrich the world, and the ability to communicate this in original, clear and engaging prose.

The Author

Richard Hamblyn is the author of 'The Invention of Clouds', which won the 2002 "Los Angeles Times" Book Prize and was shortlisted for the Samuel Johnson Prize, 'Terra: Tales of the Earth', a study of natural disasters, 'Data Soliloquies', co-written with the digital artist Martin John Callanan, and 'The Cloud Book', published in association with the Met Office. He teaches creative writing at Birkbeck College, University of London.

Chronicles of the Ancient World

Haywood, John

The great civilizations of the distant past never cease to amaze us with their spectacular achievements - their ideas, writings and works of art still speak to us with an amazing freshness of imagination and workmanship.

This book paints a vivid, multi-faceted portrait of the achievements of those civilizations set within their historical context, with a global reach that includes ancient Mesopotamia, Egypt, Greece, and Rome.

'Chronicles of the Ancient World' combines detailed commentary with over 170 stunning images to create a beautiful guide to the spiritual, cultural, technological and artistic innovation of these complex and fascinating societies.

The Author

Dr John Haywood is a Cambridge-educated expert on the history of Dark Age Europe. His authorial credits include 'The Cassell Atlas of World History', 'The Penguin Atlas of the Vikings' and 'The Great Migrations' (Quercus, 2008).

From Gutenberg to Zuckerberg

Naughton, John

Our society has gone through a weird, unremarked transition: once a novelty, the Net is now something that we take for granted, like mains electricity or running water. In the process we've been surprisingly incurious about its significance or cultural implications. How has our society become dependent on a utility that it doesn't really understand?

John Naughton has distilled the noisy chatter surrounding the internet's relentless evolution into nine clear-sighted areas of understanding. In doing so he affords everyone the requisite knowledge to make better use of the technologies and networks around us, as well as highlighting some of their more disturbing implications.

The Author

John Naughton is Vice-President of Wolfson College, Cambridge. He is also the Observer's 'Networker' columnist and a prominent blogger at memex.naughtons.org. His last book was 'A Brief History of the Future: The Origins of the Internet' (1999). He lives in Cambridge.

How To Live Forever...

Jha, Alok

- How can you live forever?
- What does it take to create life?
- How can we find other universes?
- Will we ever talk to aliens?
- What do you need to build a brain?

'How to Live Forever' is the essential survival guide for anyone who has ever been baffled by science. Embarking on a journey from the very small to the very big, readers will be taken on a glorious tour of the universe, taking in cloned sheep, alien worlds, bizarre life forms, quantum weirdness, parallel dimensions and dissected brains along the way.

You'll discover how to travel through time, how to start (and cure) a plague, how the mind works, how to turn sunbeams into oak trees, how to boil a planet, how Harry Potter's cloak of invisibility works and much, much more.

Both informative and enjoyable, this is a rip-roaring tour through the wonders of the natural world.

The Author

Alok Jha is a science and environment correspondent at the "Guardian" newspaper, specialising in green technologies. In addition to writing news and comment, he presents the Science Weekly podcast and looks after the "Guardian's" science website. He graduated with a physics degree from Imperial College London.

How To Destroy The Universe...

Parsons, Paul

How do you generate a force field? Could you survive falling into a black hole? How do you turn lead into gold?

If you thought physics was all about measuring the temperature of ice in a bucket or trying to fathom what $E=mc^2$ means, think again. In a series of intriguing, entertaining and often extraordinary scenarios, 'How to Destroy the Universe' brings to life 35 key physics ideas in a way that anyone can understand.

Read this book and you'll find out how to save the planet from energy shortages by mining the vacuum of empty space, engineer the Earth's climate to reverse the effects of global warming and fend off killer asteroids. You'll learn essential survival skills such as how to live through a lightning strike, how to tough it out during an earthquake and how to fall into a black hole without being turned into spaghetti. And you'll also discover how to turn lead into gold, how to travel to the centre of the Earth, how to crack supposedly unbreakable codes and how to use physics to predict the stock market.

So if you want to get to grips with the science behind relativity, antigravity and parallel universes, or if you are really more interested in learning how to teleport, travel through time or achieve immortality, this is the perfect introduction to the astonishing world of modern physics.

The Author

Dr Paul Parsons is a regular contributor to "Nature", "New Scientist" and the "Daily Telegraph". He frequently appears on BBC radio and his television credits include "Richard & Judy" and "BBC Breakfast". He was formerly editor of the BBC's award-winning science and technology magazine "Focus". Counterstrike

Schmitt, Eric and Shanker, Thom

In 'Counterstrike', Eric Schmitt and Thom Shanker of the "New York Times" take readers into a previously hidden theater of war, as U.S. ground troops, intelligence operatives, and top executive branch officials have fashioned effective new strategies to fight terrorism, in sharp contrast to the cowboy slogans that once characterized the U.S. government's public posture. They show how these innovative strategies, drawn from classic Cold War deterrence theory, were employed in the dramatic raid in which Osama bin Laden was killed, and in a new afterword the authors point to the ongoing challenges and successes facing America in the Middle East, in cyberspace, and at home.

The Author

Eric Schmitt is a terrorism correspondent for the "New York Times", and has embedded with troops in Iraq, Afghanistan, Somalia, and Pakistan. He has twice been a member of Times reporting teams that were awarded the Pulitzer Prize. Thom Shanker, Pentagon correspondent for the "New York Times", routinely spends time embedded with troops in Iraq and Afghanistan. He was formerly a foreign editor and correspondent for the "Chicago Tribune", based in Moscow, Berlin, and Sarajevo.

Rookie Yearbook One

Gevinson, Tavi

The first print publication edited by Tavi Gevinson, the editor in chief of Rookie, the website for teenage girls

Tavi Gevinson started her personal blog, Style Rookie (<http://www.thestylerookie.com>), in 2008, when she was eleven years old. It was a place where, from the confines of her bedroom in the suburbs, she could write about personal style and chronicle the development of her own. Within two years, the blog was averaging fifty thousand hits per day. Soon fashion designers were flying her around the world to attend and write about fashion shows, and to be a guest of honour at their parties.

Soon Tavi's interests grew beyond fashion, into culture and art and, especially, feminism. In September 2011, when she was fifteen, she launched Rookie (<http://rookiemag.com>), a website for girls like her: teenagers who are interested in fashion and beauty but also in dissecting the culture around them through a uniquely teen-girl lens. Rookie broke one million page views within its first six days. 'Rookie Yearbook One' collects articles, interviews, photo editorials, and illustrations from the highly praised and hugely popular online magazine.

The Author

Tavi Gevinson is the founder and editor in chief of Rookie. She lives in Oak Park, Illinois, with her family and many piles of candy-bar wrappers.

Heming Way, The Beckerman, Marty

More than fifty years have passed since the death of Ernest Hemingway, history's ultimate man, and young males today - obsessed with Facebook, Twitter, and Playstation - know nothing about his legendary brand of rugged, alcoholic masculinity. They cannot skin a fish, dominate a battlefield, or transform majestic creatures of the Southern Hemisphere into piano keyboards.

'The Heming Way' demonstrates how modern eunuchs - brainwashed by PETA and Alcoholics Anonymous - can learn from Papa's unparalleled example: drunken, unshaven, meat-devouring, wife-divorcing, and gloriously self-destructive.

Advice includes:

- How to kill enough animals to render a species endangered - just like Papa!
- Getting your friends to think drinking a daiquiri is manly... just by drinking one nine yourself
- Achieving sufficiently high testosterone levels to never have to worry about the chance of having a daughter instead of a son

Women's Health Big Book of Yoga, The Budig, Kathryn

Millions of people around the world now practice yoga on a regular basis. Devotees can't rave enough about this ancient art of meditation, breathing, and physical postures that calms the mind and slims the body. Unlike fitness fads, yoga is worth the hype. The postures stretch and tone lean muscle mass and sculpt a strong and slender physique - burning up to 400 calories in a 90-minute session. But yoga does something even better. It's proven to reduce the biggest cause of weight gain - stress - which 43% of Americans say makes them overeat.

This definitive volume features:

- every essential pose to help readers lose weight and transform their bodies
- Total Body Yoga: targeted workouts in 15 minutes or less
- core-strengthening routines for hotter, more satisfying sex
- a healthy, mindful eating plan centered around calming, cleansing foods

The Author

Kathryn Budig is on faculty at YogaWorks Santa Monica, Kripalu, and teaches privately around the world. She has been featured in "Yoga Journal", the "New York Times", "Shape", and "The Huffington Post". She lives in Los Angeles.

Athlete's Book of Home Remedies, The Metzl M.D., Jordan

Identify, treat, and - most important - prevent common debilitating sports injuries and medical conditions.

When you get hurt, you have fears. You have questions. Ice or heat? Should I see a doctor? Will I need surgery? This book answers those questions and allays those fears. Dr. Jordan Metzl, one of the nation's leading sports medicine physicians, breaks down all the information into easy-to-follow strategies for effective self-treatment - while letting you know in no uncertain terms when you should go see your own doctor, pronto.

The book also answers other common training questions like, "What should I eat to fuel my workouts?" and "What exercises can I do to prevent injury and perform at the next level?" Understand: Metzl isn't just a doctor. He's an elite athlete, having completed 9 Ironman triathlons and 29 marathons. He understands the mind of the athlete, how psychologically devastating any injury can be, and what it takes to get you back in your game as quickly and safely as possible.

The Author

Jordan D. Metzl, MD, is a nationally recognized sports medicine physician at Hospital for Special Surgery, in New York City. His practice treats more than 20,000 patients and he is regularly voted among New York's top sports medicine doctors by New York magazine. He lectures and teaches all over the world and has appeared on the "Today" show and "Good Morning America". Dr. Metzl specializes in nonsurgical treatment, working to help patients get back to their favorite activities as soon as is safely possible.

Belief, Doubt and Fanaticism

Osho

In 'Belief, Doubt, and Fanaticism', Osho brings his unique and often surprising perspective to the religious, political, social and economic forces that drive people into opposing camps, fanatical groups, and belief systems that depend on seeing every "other" as the "enemy." As always, the focus is first and foremost on the individual psyche and consciousness, to identify the root causes and hidden demons of our human need to belong and have something to "believe in."

The Osho "Life Essentials" series focuses on the most important questions in the life of the individual. Each volume contains timeless and always-contemporary investigations and discussions into questions vital to our personal search for meaning and purpose. The Osho "Life Essentials" series focuses on questions specific to our inner life and quality of existence, for example: Is it possible to have an authentic spirituality without a belief in God? What is meditation and how does it work? What can I do as an individual to make the world a better place?

The Author

Osho is one of the most provocative and inspiring spiritual teachers of the twentieth century. He is known for his revolutionary contributions to the science of inner transformation, and the influence of his teachings continues to grow, reaching seekers of all ages in virtually every country of the world.

Fear

Osho

In 'Fear: Understanding and Accepting the Insecurities of Life', Osho takes the reader step by step over the range of what makes human beings afraid - from the reflexive "fight or flight" response to physical danger to the rational and irrational fears of the mind and its psychology. Only by bringing the light of understanding into fear's dark corners, he says, airing out closets and opening windows, and looking under the bed to see if a monster is really living there, can we begin to venture outside the boundaries of our comfort zone and learn to live with, and even enjoy, the fundamental insecurity of being alive.

'Fear' ends with a series of meditation experiments designed to help readers experience a new relationship with fear and to begin to see fears not as stumbling blocks, but as stepping stones to greater self-awareness and trust.

Journey of Being Human, The

Osho

Man is a bridge, says Osho, between the animal and the divine - and our awareness of this dual aspect of our nature is what makes us human. It is also what makes us restless, full of conflict, so often at the crossroads of selfishness and generosity, of love and hate, frailty and strength, hope and despair. 'The Journey of Being Human' looks into how we might embrace and accept these apparent contradictions, rather than trying to choose between them, as the key to transforming each twist and turn of life's journey into a new discovery of who we are meant to be.

The Osho "Life Essentials" series focuses on the most important questions in the life of the individual. Each volume contains timeless and always-contemporary investigations and discussions into questions vital to our personal search for meaning and purpose. The Osho "Life Essentials" series focuses on questions specific to our inner life and quality of existence, for example: Is it possible to have an authentic spirituality without a belief in God? Learning to Silence the Mind

The mind, says Osho, has the potential to be enormously creative in dealing with the challenges of everyday life, and the problems of the world in which we live. The difficulty, however, is that instead of using the mind as a helpful servant we have largely allowed it to become the master of our lives. Its ambitions, belief systems, and interpretations rule our days and our nights - bringing us into conflict with minds that are different from ours, keeping us awake at night rehashing those conflicts or planning the conflicts of tomorrow, and disturbing our sleep and our dreams. If only there was a way to switch it off and give it a rest! Finding the switch that can silence the mind - not by force or performing some exotic ritual, but through understanding, watchfulness, and a healthy sense of humor - is meditation. A sharper, more relaxed and creative mind - one that can function at the peak of its unique intelligence - is the potential. The book will include a link to tutorials on OSHO Nadabrahma Meditation.

Florence + The Machine

Howe, Zoe

Tells the story of her upbringing in South London where Welch was confronted with death, witnessing her grandfather's deterioration along with her grandmother's suicide (something which has influenced her songwriting greatly) to her thrilling rise to international fame as a singer and also a highly individual fashion icon.

Documents how much of the material on debut album Lungs was written as reaction to what turned out to be a temporary break-up with Welch's current boyfriend.

Her collaborations and working relationships with Chanel Creative Director Karl Lagerfeld, her manager Mairead Nash and her friend Isabella Summers who to this day forms part of 'the Machine'.

Her sense of style has captured the imaginations of fans and fashion editors the world over and the book tells the stories behind the glittering award ceremonies, TV appearances and international tours

Beatles Graphic, The

Bourhis, Herve

Hervé Bourhis, creator of 'The Little Book of Rock', turns his unique graphic talents to the legend of The Beatles, told from the very beginning.

Bourhis' visual imagination illuminates the individual lives of each band member from their pre-Beatles youth to what would become a rock band of phenomenal worldwide fame.

All of the epic details of their story are vividly evoked: the triumphs, the quarrels, the supreme musical creativity and of course the inevitable break-up.

The story then goes on to follow the personal destinies of John, Paul, George and Ringo, four Liverpool lads who were by turns ambitious, clever, facetious, arrogant, down-to-earth and supremely talented.

Theirs was the ultimate rock band story and Hervé Bourhis has done it - and them - full justice in this superb and exuberant graphic biography.

Kelly Rowland: From Destiny & Beyond

Govan, Chloe

This biography details her childhood strife as the only black girl in her school with an alcoholic - and then absent - father, life on the edge as a teenage R&B star in Destiny's Child, an ill-fated early solo career and finally finding success on her own, as well as taking centre stage as a judge on X-Factor.

- Details the highs and lows of being in Destiny's Child, the cat-fights, the accusations of favouritism, the hours of training and the lowdown on life in what would soon become, according to the 2005 World Music Awards, the world's bestselling girl group of all time.
- Kelly's struggle to shine while hiding in her band mate's Beyonce's shadow and her endurance of rumours that Mathew Knowles - whom she'd moved in with - was her father.
- An in depth look at Kelly's early solo career (including her first two albums), her collaborations and her acting career as both a singer in sitcoms and an actress in worldwide box office hit films.
- Kelly's split from Beyonce's father as manager and the reasons behind it, her change in musical style and her dramatic decision not to have Beyonce involved with her third album, unlike previous solo efforts to which her ex-band mate contributed.

Kraftwerk: Publikation: A Biography

Buckley, David

David Buckley examines the cult enigma that is Kraftwerk, including their beginnings in the avant-garde musical terrain of late-Sixties Germany and their Anglo-American breakthrough with Autobahn in 1975, as well as their astonishingly prescient work, which drew the musical template for techno, ambient, dance and all manner of electronic pop.

- Includes an interview with former member Wolfgang Flür.
- The inner workings of this most secretive of bands are revealed through interviews with friends and close associates, whilst the story of their incredible impact on modern music is traced up to the present day using interviews with a host of musicians, from original electro pioneers such as Gary Numan, the Human League, OMD and John Foxx, to contemporary acts still in awe of the original Man Machines.

Remarkable Life of Leonard Cohen, The Reynolds, Anthony

Anthony Reynolds' fascinating and detailed biography draws on scores of new interviews conducted with Cohen's band members past and present, his business associates, editors, friends, fans, producers, colleagues, enemies and peers.

As well as their revealing accounts, the author has gained access to hours of previously unpublished interviews with Cohen as well as video archive recordings from several decades. The book also includes an authoritative summary of every Cohen album, with insights and recollections supplied from the musicians who appeared on the recordings.

Gradually, despite Cohen's own good-natured evasiveness over the past 40 years, a surprisingly frank portrait begins to emerge of the legendary figure who commands unparalleled loyalty from his fans and followers, young and old. From the distant days of his penniless beginnings as a much-praised poet in Montreal, through the travels, affairs and religious crisis to his latest tours, Cohen's extraordinary life and body of work is examined as never before.

The Author

Anthony Reynolds is a critically acclaimed musician, journalist and author. This is his third book.

Rise and Fall of EMI Records, The (Updated Edition)

Electric and Music Industries Ltd (EMI) first saw the light of day in the UK in 1931. In a visionary move for the gramophone age, it manufactured both hardware (recording and playback equipment) and software (the records and tapes its machines would play).

For over half a century, EMI dominated both sectors, its music division eventually becoming the most successful in the world with a roster that at various times included The Beatles, Maria Callas, Frank Sinatra, Cliff Richard, Pink Floyd, The Beach Boys, Queen, Robbie Williams, The Spice Girls, Kate Bush and Kylie Minogue. Then in the 1990s, things started to go wrong...

Guy Hands bought EMI in 2007. Four years on - and on EMI's 80th birthday - the company has been bought by a French media giant and a consortium led by the music arm of a Japanese electronics corporation taking over ownership of EMI's legendary record business and its highly profitable publishing arm from an American bank. Do these two deals mark the final chapter in the story of the company that proudly bore the name Electric & Musical Industries? This is the continuing saga of Britain's greatest music company as it faces an uncertain future under new ownership. Since 2009 EMI has broken new acts and sold millions of records BUT the massive debts incurred by its owners Terra Firma have finally taken it to the brink of a break-up. Music industry experts and executives, financiers and commentators plus artists' managers assess EMI's fortunes as the company celebrates its 80th birthday.

The Author

Brian Southall worked as a journalist with "Music Business Weekly", "Melody Maker" and "Disc" before joining A&M Records. He moved to EMI Records and EMI Music, where, during a 15 year career, he served in press, promotion, marketing, artist development and corporate communications. From 1989 he was a consultant to Warner Music International, HMV Group and both the British Phonographic Industry (BPI) and the International Federation of the phonographic Industry (IFPI). Among other books, he has written are the official history of Abbey Road Studios and 'The Story of Northern Songs', both published by Omnibus Press.

Ultimate Biography of the Bee Gees, The Cooke, Hector

The bestselling definitive biography, now updated to include the tragic deaths of Maurice Gibb in February 2003 and Robin Gibb in May 2012.

The Bee Gees' journey from Fifties child act to musical institution is one of pop's most turbulent legends. Barry, Maurice and Robin Gibb somehow managed to survive changing musical fashions and bitter personal feuds to create a musical partnership that lasted four times as long as The Beatles.

Described by the authors as their 'objective tribute', this unflinching biography chronicles everything - the good, the bad... and the hushed-up.

Youthful delinquency, disastrous marriages, bitter lawsuits, gay sex scandals, serious drug problems and the death of younger brother Andy have sometimes made the personal lives of the Brothers Gibb look as bleak as the low spots of a career that once reduced them to playing the Batley Variety Club.

Yet every time the Bee Gees roller coaster seemed derailed for good, they recovered and went on to even greater triumphs.

Today they are among pop music's all-time greats, legendary performers, producers and songwriters. But the true story of their success and the high price they paid for it has never been fully revealed... until now.

Tangle of Traitors, A: The Phenomenals

Higgins, F. E.

The Giant, the Huntress, the Rich Girl, the Thief: these haphazard heroes will save us from grief

A twisted adventure of intrigue, magic and superstition from the bestselling F. E. Higgins

Don't go down to the tar pits, children - for their shores are lined with the wretched wraiths of all the traitors and murderers who have drowned in its bubbling depths. In the shadows of this putrid place, an unlikely new alliance is being formed: they call them The Phenomenals, and only they can save us from a hideous fate that will befall the town if the wraiths escape their tarry shackles...

Meet The Phenomenals: Citrine Capodel - heiress to a corrupt empire and framed for a murder she did not commit; Folly Harpelaine - a merciless destroyer of Lurids, who dabbles in the dark arts; Jonah Scrimshander - a deadly harpoonist, who has already cheated death, and Vincent Verdigris - light-fingered and even lighter on his feet.

The Author

F. E. travels the lands that her books describe, collecting strange artefacts and the even stranger secrets and stories behind them. 'The Black Book of Secrets', 'The Bone Magician', 'The Eyeball Collector' and 'The Lunatic's Curse' document the results of these eerie explorations and have sold all over the world. When not in pursuit of a story, F. E. may be found in a haunted house in Kent.

Journal of a Schoolyard Bully: Cyber Bully

Katz, Farley

In the tradition of the mega successful 'Diary of a Wimpy Kid' and 'Dork Diaries', 'Journal of a Schoolyard Bully: Cyber Bully' by Farley Katz chronicles the life of Niko Kayler, habitual trouble-maker. For the second time in the series, Niko Kayler makes a triumphant return from bully rehab and must once again put the nerds in their places - but what happens when the tables are turned?

After his mum transfers jobs and towns, Niko Kayler, notorious calculating bully, gets a second chance to be good, or be evil. Though he tries to contain himself, Niko stumbles onto the world of cyber bullying, harnessing the power of cell phones, facebook, and some technology he invents to covertly torture his fellow classmates. Things seem to be going well for Niko until the technology is turned against him and Niko learns what it's like to be on the wrong side of the cyber bullying.

The Author

At twenty-seven, Farley Katz is the youngest staff cartoonist for "The New Yorker", where he's published more than eighty cartoons. He wrote and edited "The New Yorker's" comedy blog, The Cartoon Lounge. He's written jokes and drawn cartoons for "Mad" magazine, "Saturday Night Live", and "The Harvard Lampoon". He lives in New York City where he writes and draws the webcomic Kids Are Dumb (kidsaredumb.com).

Jinx: The Wizard's Apprentice

Blackwood, Sage

Never stray far from the path is the rule every child in the Urwald Forest follows. Every child, that is, except a boy named Jinx. Jinx is an apprentice to Simon, a wizard who is just a little bit evil. When one of Simon's spells robs Jinx of his ability to see other people's thoughts, he decides to head off into the forest to try recover his magic.

Jinx's mission brings him face to face with a very evil, soul-sucking wizard, the terrible Bonemaster. With help only from Elfwyn, who is cursed with a truth-telling spell, and Reven, who is far too polite to be useful in a fight, it looks like Jinx's magic could be gone forever...

The Author

Sage Blackwood is the pseudonym of Karen Schwabach, who is from New York. She worked for many years as an ESL teacher in Alaska, and now writes fulltime. She has published three novels of historical fiction for children. 'Jinx: The Wizard's Apprentice' is her first fantasy novel.

My Snake Blake

Siegel, Randy

What's green, and slithery, and smooth, and...smart? My snake Blake, that's who! When my dad brought him home, he curved and twisted his body and spelled out "hello."

And when my mum was worried he might bite, his response was "relax."

This hilarious story about the friendship between a boy and his rather exceptional pet is brought to life by the simple yet delightful drawings of award-winning artist Serge Bloch.

The Author

Randy Siegel is the author of 'Grandma's Smile' for Roaring Brook Press. Siegel has written for newspapers and magazines around the country and works for Advance Publications in New York City. Serge Bloch is a Society of Illustrators Gold Medal winner and the recipient of France's Baobab Award. He illustrated Susie Morgenstern's 'A Book of Coupons', named an ALA Batchelder Honor Book, and has written and illustrated numerous books for children and young adults. He lives in Paris.

Seahorses

Keats Curtis, Jennifer

One day, a baby seahorse is born, turning and tumbling as he floats through ocean currents alongside his three hundred brothers and sisters.

Like a tiny, mythical dragon, the seahorse is a fascinating creature: he changes color to fit in with the surroundings of his spectacular coral reef and sea grass surroundings; his lizard-like eyes can look in two directions at once; and when he has grown, he - not the female - will give birth to the next batch of whirling seahorses.

The Author

Jennifer Keats Curtis is the author of 'Saving Squeak: The Otter Tale', 'Baby Owl's Rescue', 'Osprey Adventure', and 'Turtles in My Sandbox'. A longtime journalist, Jennifer currently serves as editor-at-large for Maryland Life magazine. She resides with her family in the Annapolis area. Chad Wallace is an award-winning artist and the illustrator of 'Earth: Feeling the Heat'. He spends a great deal of time outdoors and draws inspiration from the natural world. He lives in Amawalk, New York.

Summer Days and Nights

Yee, Wong Herbert

On a hot summer day, a little girl finds ways to entertain herself and stay cool. She catches a butterfly, sips lemonade, jumps in a pool, and goes on a picnic. At night, she sees an owl in a tree and a frog in a pond, and hears leaves rustling. Before long, she's fast asleep, dreaming about more summer days and summer nights.

As with his earlier books featuring this spunky little girl, Wong Herbert Yee's focus is on appreciating the small but special details that define a season.

The Author

Wong Herbert Yee is the author and illustrator of many books for children, including the popular "Fireman Small" series. He lives with his wife and daughter in Troy, Michigan.

Oliver Fibbs 1: The Attack of the Alien Brain

Hartley, Steve

These fibs just got real! The first hilarious book in a brand-new series for boys.

"Hi! I'm Oliver Tibbs (some people call me 'Oliver Fibbs') and everyone in my family is super-brilliant at something - chess, ballet, brain surgery and architecture - but I'm not brilliant at anything. Show and Tell (or as I call it: Pain and Torture Time) is my worst nightmare... I haven't got a black belt at karate or made a mega-powerful electro-magnet. All I'm good at is reading comics and eating pizza. But I'm fed up with being Dull and Boring, so I've been telling the class about my adventures as a Defender of Planet Earth - battling against the evil Alien Brain Drain who wants to take over the world! Everyone loved it except Miss Wilkins, who gave me a detention for telling fibs. Now my parents think I'm Going Bad. I keep telling them - THEY'RE NOT FIBS, THEY'RE STORIES!"

The Author

Steve Hartley is many things: author, astronaut, spy, racing-car driver, trapeze-artist and vampire-hunter. His hobbies include puddle-diving and hamster-wrestling and he was voted 'Coolest Dude of the Year' for five years running by Seriously Cool magazine. Steve is 493 years old, lives in a golden palace on top of a dormant volcano in Lancashire and never, EVER, tells fibs. "Oliver Fibbs" is Steve's brand-new series, but he has also written the "Danny Baker Record Breaker" series. You can find out more about him on his extremely silly website: www.stevehartley.net

Zoe and Beans: Pants on the Moon!

Inkpen, Chloe & Inkpen, Mick (illustr.)

Take a trip into space with Zoe and Beans!

Zoe is hanging her pants out to dry one day, when... whoosh! A big gust of wind blows her and Beans up, up, up into space - along with the washing line full of pants! When they finally land on the moon, there's a lot of exciting exploring to do. But how on earth are they going to get home again?

The fourth title in this popular picture book series.

The Author

Chloë Inkpen grew up surrounded by picture books and has a natural gift for storytelling. She studied at Glasgow School of Art and was awarded second place in the Macmillan Prize for Illustration in 2008. She then began writing with her father, Mick Inkpen, and together they have created a new picture book series which they write together and Chloë illustrates. Mick Inkpen is one of today's most popular picture book author-illustrators and the creator of KIPPER and WIBBLY PIG. He has won the British Book Award twice, as well as the Children's Book Award, and his stories are enjoyed across the world.

Jack and the Flum Flum Tree Book and CD Pack

Jack's Granny is sick with a bad case of the moozles! And the only cure is the fruit of the fantastic flumflum tree which grows on the faraway Isle of Blowyernose. It's a perilous journey, but Jack bravely sets sail, with a motley crew of only three - and a large patchwork sack that Granny has filled with an odd assortment of items from chewing-gum to tent pegs. But what use will they be against hungry sharks, a leaky boat and a thieving monkey?

Follow Jack across the ocean in this irresistible story from the creators of 'Tyrannosaurus Drip' and 'The Troll'.

The Author

Julia Donaldson, recently appointed as the Children's Laureate, is the outrageously talented, prize-winning author of the world's most-loved picture books, most notably 'The Gruffalo', which has sold over 5 million copies worldwide. Julia also writes fiction as well as poems, plays and songs. David Roberts has earned great acclaim for his distinctive illustrations, and his books have been sold in over 15 countries. In 2006 he won the Nestlé Children's Book Prize Gold Award for his line drawings in 'Mouse Noses on Toast'. He has collaborated with Julia Donaldson on two previous picture books for Macmillan, 'Tyrannosaurus Drip' and 'The Troll'.

Room on the Broom (Gift Edition)

Donaldson, Julia & Scheffler, Axel (illust.)

The witch and her cat fly happily over forests, rivers and mountains on their broomstick until a stormy wind blows away the witch's hat, bow and wand. They are retrieved by a dog, a bird and a frog, and each animal asks for a ride on the broom. One after the next climbs on, until the broom is so heavy that it snaps in two! What will happen next as they tumble into a bog and meet a greedy dragon?

This classic picture book is now available in a beautiful, limited edition slipcase.
