Second Suns

Relin, David Oliver

Geoffrey Tabin and Sanduk Ruit are gifted ophthalmologists who have dedicated their lives to restoring sight to some of the world's most isolated, impoverished people.

'Second Suns' takes us from improvised operating tables in villages without electricity or plumbing to surgical centres at major American universities where these two driven men are restoring sight - and hope - to patients from around the world. With their revolutionary style of surgery, they have been able to cure tens of thousands. David Oliver Relin brings the doctors' work to life through poignant portraits of patients helped by the surgery, including children who have not seen their mothers' faces for years.

My Story

Corby, Schapelle with Bonella, Kathryn

Schapelle Corby remains in jail, her number-one bestselling memoir her only direct line to the public. A two-week break to a tropical paradise became a waking nightmare for Schapelle Corby. She was arrested at Denpasar airport after 4.2 kilograms of marijuana were placed in her bag after she checked it in. Though innocent, she was forced to face the consequences of another's crime in a country where the penalties for drug smuggling are among the harshest in the world. The entire nation watched in horror as she was sentenced to twenty years in jail. In her searing and compelling book we hear her tell her own story, learning to survive in the squalor, discomfort and violence of a third-world jail; a young woman experiencing the unimaginable, and enduring the unendurable with courage, strength and humour.

Fukushima

Willacy, Mark

On 11 March 2011, Japan was rocked by one of the largest earthquakes ever recorded, which created a massive tsunami that devastated the coast of north eastern Japan. Close to 20,000 people were killed or disappeared under waves that reached more than 40 metres high. Yet the greatest damage was caused when the tsunami surged over the seawall of Fukushima Dai-ichi nuclear power station, resulting in a multiple core meltdown that released vast quantities of radioactivity.

'Fukushima' is the incredible story behind the twin catastrophes of the tsunami and nuclear meltdown, seen through the eyes of witnesses and victims.

More Shit My Dad Says

Halpern, Justin

The sequel to the million-selling international hit 'Sh*t My Dad Says'

'Growing up, every time I saw a men's magazine cover that had a headline about "73 Ways to Please Your Girlfriend", all I could think was "I'm good with one; just tell me one way to please her. Also, I don't have a girlfriend. Is there an article about that?"

Soon after 'Sh*t My Dad Says' began to take off, comic writer Justin Halpern decided to propose to his then girlfriend. But before doing so, he asked his dad's advice, which was very, very simple (and surprisingly clean): 'Just take a day to think about it.' This book is the story of that trip down memory lane, to the adventures and misadventures of teenage relationships.

For God's Sake

Caro, J., Loewenstein, A., Smart, S. and Woodlock, R.

Four of Australia's most interesting religious - and anti-religious - thinkers come together to ask and answer the big questions, such as: What is the nature of the universe? What is a good life? How do we account for evil? Where do we find hope?

Along the way we are introduced to the detail of the different belief systems - Judaism, Christianity, Islam - and to the argument that atheism, like organised religion, has its own compelling logic.

Provocative, informative and passionately argued, 'For God's Sake' encourages us to accept religious differences but to also challenge more vigorously the beliefs that create discord.

Blackhorse Riders

Keith, Philip

This is the incredible true story of a brave military unit in Vietnam that risked everything to rescue an outnumbered troop under heavy fire - and the thirty-nine-year odyssey to recognize their bravery.

On March 26, 1970, deep in the jungles of Vietnam the famed Blackhorse Regiment began hearing radio calls from a unit that were outnumbered at least six to one. The company was fated to be eventually all killed or captured. With the courage and determination that makes legends out of ordinary men, they effected a daring rescue.

In 2009 President Obama awarded the Alpha Troop the Presidential Unit Citation: the highest combat award that can be given to a unit.

Restoration of Rome, The

Heather, Peter

In 476 AD the last of Rome's emperors was deposed by a barbarian general, the son of one of Attila the Hun's henchmen, and the imperial vestments were despatched to Constantinople. The curtain fell on the Roman Empire in Western Europe, its territories divided between successor kingdoms constructed around barbarian military manpower.

But if the Roman Empire was dead, the dream of restoring it refused to die. In many parts of the old Empire, real Romans still lived, holding on to their lands, the values of their civilisation, its institutions; the barbarians were ready to reignite the imperial flame and to enjoy the benefits of Roman civilization, the three greatest contenders being Theoderic, Justinian and Charlemagne.

Tudors: A History of England Volume II

Ackroyd, Peter

Rich in detail and atmosphere and told in vivid prose, Tudors recounts the transformation of England from a settled Catholic country to a Protestant superpower. It is the story of Henry VIII's cataclysmic break with Rome, and his relentless pursuit of both the perfect wife and the perfect heir; of how the brief reign of the teenage king, Edward VI, gave way to the violent reimposition of Catholicism and the stench of bonfires under 'Bloody Mary'. It tells, too, of the long reign of Elizabeth I, which, though marked by civil strife, plots against the queen and even an invasion force, finally brought stability. Above all, however, it is the story of the English Reformation and the making of the Anglican Church.

Into the Jaws of Death

Lyman, Robert

On the night of 28 March 1942 the Royal Navy and British commandos assaulted the German-held French Atlantic port of Saint-Nazaire in one of the most audacious raids of the Second World War. Their plan was simple: to drive an old destroyer packed with three tons of explosive at full speed into the outer gate of the Normandie dock.

Destroying this would deny the formidable Tirpitz battleship, 'Operation Chariot' was dramatically successful, but at a great cost.

'Into the Jaws of Death' is a gripping story of high daring that demonstrates how the decisive courage of a small group of men changed the course of the war.

Why We Build

Moore, Rowan

In 'Why We Build' Rowan Moore explores the making of buildings from conception to inhabitation, and reveals the paradoxical power of architecture: it looks fixed and solid, but is always changing in response to the lives around it. Moving across the globe and through history, through works of folly, beauty, spectacle, and subtlety - the doomed mansion of an Atlanta multimillionaire, the phenomenally successful High Line in New York - Moore gives a provocative and iconoclastic view of what makes architecture, why it matters, and why we find it fascinating.

Former People

Smith, Douglas

This is the first book to recount the history of the nobility caught up the maelstrom of the Bolshevik Revolution and the creation of Stalin's Russia. It is a book filled with chilling tales of looted palaces, burning estates, of desperate flights from marauding thugs and Red Army soldiers, of imprisonment, exile, and execution. It is the story of how a centuries'-old elite famous for its glittering wealth, its service to the Tsar and Empire, was dispossessed and destroyed along with the rest of old Russia.

Drawing on the private archives of two great families - the Sheremetovs and the Golitsyns - Former People is also a story of survival.
